Where: CCAT Innovation Center

409 Silver Lane
East Hartford, CT

Directions

Seating: Limited to 50 attendees; please only 2 per company

Cost: $75 per person (includes free parking, breakfast and break)

Who Should Come: Small businesses wishing to learn the SBIR NIH basics of writing an application and advanced proposal writing strategies

Format: Dr. Geoffrey White will moderate the program.

- Kay Etzler, NIH SBIR Program Analyst (SBIR National Program) - NIH Overview and SBIR News
- L2 Diagnostics – a company that has won several NIH SBIR/STTRs - will discuss its strategies.
- Hartford Hospital Research Center. Did you know that Hartford Hospital can help you conduct clinical studies? Listen to Liz Roper tell you about the program.
- "You CAN get funded!" - strategy discussion presented by Dr. Geoffrey White, a former NIH SBIR grant reviewer who is now working in CT as a full-time consultant writing and editing SBIR proposals.

We will be providing FREE Proposal reviews!

Special Feature: The CT SBIR Office will be funding several more Go/No Go technology assessment reports. These are valued at $2000 each and are intended to find commercialization “showstoppers” that could prevent a company from spending resources on a technology that may not be suitable for commercialization.

The Connecticut SBIR Office, established in late 2004, is an initiative of Connecticut Center for Advanced technology, Inc., a non-profit corporation in East Hartford dedicated to enhancing the region's competitiveness through high-tech innovation and development. The initiative was created to help small businesses in CT capture federal SBIR/STTR grants of between $100,000 and $750,000 for developing promising technologies as well as providing a full-service business innovation and commercialization resource center. We send out periodic notices of SBIR and STTR solicitations in addition to notices and events we think are worthwhile. If you do not wish to receive these solicitations please send us back an email and put "REMOVE" in the subject area. We will remove you from our database.
